Summary of Record of Interview Requirements

Manual of Patent Examining Procedure (MPEP), Section 713.04, Substance of Interview Must be Made of Record

A complete written statement as to the substance of any face-to-face, video conference, or telephone interview with regard to an application must be made of record in the application whether or not an agreement with the examiner was reached at the interview.

Title 37 Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) § 1.133 Interviews

Paragraph (b)

In every instance where reconsideration is requested in view of an interview with an examiner, a complete written statement of the reasons presented at the interview as warranting favorable action must be filed by the applicant. An interview does not remove the necessity for reply to Office action as specified in §§ 1.111, 1.135. (35 U.S.C. 132)

37 CFR §1.2 Business to be transacted in writing.

All business with the Patent or Trademark Office should be transacted in writing. The personal attendance of applicants or their attorneys or agents at the Patent and Trademark Office is unnecessary. The action of the Patent and Trademark Office will be based exclusively on the written record in the Office. No attention will be paid to any alleged oral promise, stipulation, or understanding in relation to which there is disagreement or doubt.

The action of the Patent and Trademark Office cannot be based exclusively on the written record in the Office if that record is itself incomplete through the failure to record the substance of interviews.

It is the responsibility of the applicant or the attorney or agent to make the substance of an interview of record in the application file, unless the examiner indicates he or she will do so. It is the examiner's responsibility to see that such a record is made and to correct material inaccuracies which bear directly on the question of patentability.

Examiners must complete an Interview Summary Form for each interview held where a matter of substance has been discussed during the interview by checking the appropriate boxes and filling in the blanks. Discussions regarding only procedural matters, directed solely to restriction requirements for which interview recordation is otherwise provided for in Section 812.01 of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure, or pointing out typographical errors or unreadable script in Office actions or the like, are excluded from the interview recordation procedures below. Where the substance of an interview is completely recorded in an Examiners Amendment, no separate Interview Summary Record is required.

The Interview Summary Form shall be given an appropriate Paper No., placed in the right hand portion of the file, and listed on the "Contents" section of the file wrapper. In a personal interview, a duplicate of the Form is given to the applicant (or attorney or agent) at the conclusion of the interview. In the case of a telephone or video-conference interview, the copy is mailed to the applicant's correspondence address either with or prior to the next official communication. If additional correspondence from the examiner is not likely before an allowance or if other circumstances dictate, the Form should be mailed promptly after the interview rather than with the next official communication.

The Form provides for recordation of the following information:

- Application Number (Series Code and Serial Number)
- Name of applicant
- Name of examiner
- Date of interview
- Type of interview (telephonic, video-conference, or personal)
- Name of participant(s) (applicant, attorney or agent, examiner, other PTO personnel, etc.)
- An indication whether or not an exhibit was shown or a demonstration conducted
- An identification of the specific prior art discussed
- An indication whether an agreement was reached and if so, a description of the general nature of the agreement (may be by attachment of a copy of amendments or claims agreed as being allowable). Note: Agreement as to allowability is tentative and does not restrict further action by the examiner to the contrary.
- The signature of the examiner who conducted the interview (if Form is not an attachment to a signed Office action)

It is desirable that the examiner orally remind the applicant of his or her obligation to record the substance of the interview of each case unless both applicant and examiner agree that the examiner will record same. Where the examiner agrees to record the substance of the interview, or when it is adequately recorded on the Form or in an attachment to the Form, the examiner should check the appropriate box at the bottom of the Form which informs the applicant that the submission of a separate record of the substance of the interview as a supplement to the Form is not required.

It should be noted, however, that the Interview Summary Form will not normally be considered a complete and proper recordation of the interview unless it includes, or is supplemented by the applicant or the examiner to include, all of the applicable items required below concerning the substance of the interview.

A complete and proper recordation of the substance of any interview should include at least the following applicable items:

- 1) A brief description of the nature of any exhibit shown or any demonstration conducted,
- 2) an identification of the claims discussed,
- 3) an identification of the specific prior art discussed,
- 4) an identification of the principal proposed amendments of a substantive nature discussed, unless these are already described on the Interview Summary Form completed by the Examiner,
- 5) a brief identification of the general thrust of the principal arguments presented to the examiner,
(The identification of arguments need not be lengthy or elaborate. A verbatim or highly detailed description of the arguments is not required. The identification of the arguments is sufficient if the general nature or thrust of the principal arguments made to the examiner can be understood in the context of the application file. Of course, the applicant may desire to emphasize and fully describe those arguments which he or she feels were or might be persuasive to the examiner.)
- 6) a general indication of any other pertinent matters discussed, and
- 7) if appropriate, the general results or outcome of the interview unless already described in the Interview Summary Form completed by the examiner.

Examiners are expected to carefully review the applicant's record of the substance of an interview. If the record is not complete and accurate, the examiner will give the applicant an extendable one month time period to correct the record.

Examiner to Check for Accuracy

If the claims are allowable for other reasons of record, the examiner should send a letter setting forth the examiner's version of the statement attributed to him or her. If the record is complete and accurate, the examiner should place the indication, "Interview Record OK" on the paper recording the substance of the interview along with the date and the examiner's initials.

Continuation of Substance of Interview including description of the general nature of what was agreed to if an agreement was reached, or any other comments: Applicants were informed that the application was not available to the examiners at the time of the interview as the case was removed from the examiner's office for entry of a paper. Applicants indicated that formal drawings had been submitted - the examiners indicated this was probably why the case was not available at the time of the interview. Also, it was noted that Mr. Hayden was inaudible during the interview. Applicants began by reiterating pertinent rejections stated in the final rejection and advisory action. Applicants raised three main issues - 1) nonentry of the latest amendment, 2) allowability of the claims of US Patent 6,514,686 versus the instant claims, and 3) amendment to the claims that would satisfy the requirements of 35 USC 112, first paragraph. Addressing the first issue, the examiners indicated that the newly added limitation reciting structural identity was not present in the previous claims and now that the claims were more descriptive and limited to a specific ABC1 transporter, i.e., an ABC1 transporter with 50 % identity to SEQ ID NO:1 having lipid transport activity, an additional search would be required. The examiners stated that previously the claims had only recited an "ABC1 transporter" which, while a search was conducted using this term, was not as descriptive as the newly added structural limitation, and therefore, may present unidentified prior art by a sequence search instead of a text-based literature search. Addressing the second issue, the examiners indicated that the claims of the US Patent recited an ABC transporter whose structures were known and thus sufficient representative species were present in the prior art. The examiners indicated this contrasts with the instant application which discloses only a single representative species (SEQ ID NO:1) of the recited ABC1 transporter having lipid transport activity. The examiners indicated this representative species is insufficient to represent the entire genus of recited ABC1 transporters. Addressing issue 3, the examiners attempted to explain their rationale for maintaining the 112, first paragraph rejections. The examiners explained that, based on the disclosure provided in the specification, it appears that amino acids 1-60 of SEQ ID NO:1 are necessary for the transport of lipid, a structural feature (amino acids 1-60 of SEQ ID NO:1) and a functional feature (ABC1 lipid transport activity) that were not known at the time of the invention. The examiners explained that it would appear that all species of the claimed genus of ABC1 transporters would require amino acids 1-60 of SEQ ID NO:1 for lipid transport activity. The examiners explained that a simple identity limitation, e.g., 50% identity to SEQ ID NO:1 does not require that those amino acids are present and the skilled artisan must therefore reconstruct a polypeptide that does have lipid transport activity. Due to technical difficulties, applicants requested a continuation of the interview at a later date.
